CHIEF ILLUMINATION OFFICER

THE COLLECTIVE VISION GUIDE

CREATE A SHARED VISION SO CLEAR THAT EVERYONE BEGINS GROWING TOWARD IT TOGETHER.

A NOTE FROM YOUR

Chief Illumination Officer

One of the most powerful things a group can do is get clear about the future you want to create together.

Whether you are gathered as a team, circle of friends, book or Bible Study, or any other kind of community, shared vision changes what becomes possible.

This guide is here to help you create that clarity.

When a group becomes deeply clear about who you are becoming and what you are creating together, something remarkable begins to happen. Conversations deepen. Decisions become simpler. New ideas, opportunities, and next steps become easier to recognize.

Not because they suddenly appeared. Because your shared vision did.

You do not need to have every answer today.

You simply need a vision compelling enough that everyone begins recognizing the path as it unfolds.

Then begin collecting the light together.

I'm thrilled you are here, and expectant of great and wonderful things for you!

With light,
alison

Keep collecting light. Together.

The future you create starts here.

THREE LEVELS OF

Shared Vision

Every group has three possible futures.
Only one expands your capacity and opens the door to breakthrough.
Which one are you intentionally creating?

COMFORT

The life you already know how to create.
Safe. Familiar. Limiting.
Comfort isn't wrong.
It just doesn't ask you to grow.

CAPACITY

The life your current self can create.
Fueled by your gifts, talents, and experience.
It stretches your effort.
Not your identity.

CALLING

The life that expands your capacity.
You don't know how.
You know who.
You don't simply do more, you become more.

VISUALIZE YOUR SHARED FUTURE

Most teams begin with a strategy.
Extraordinary teams begin with a shared vision.

Clarity expands the possibilities you're able to notice.

Your vision starts illuminating opportunities that were always there.

Instead of asking "How do we get there?" ask something more powerful:

What future would we absolutely love to create together?

SEE THE FUTURE

you'd most love to create

Imagine your group one year from now, fully living the Declared Reality you created together. Not because everything unfolded exactly as planned. Not because every challenge disappeared. But because, conversation by conversation, decision by decision, encouragement by encouragement, you became the kind of community that brings extraordinary things to life.

WE FEEL ...

Before you think about achievements or milestones, begin with what you notice inside yourselves.

How does this community feel?
What has changed in the way you show up for one another?

Set analysis aside for a moment and become curious.

Shared vision is born long before shared strategy.

Allow the feeling to come first.
The picture will follow.

TOGETHER, WE'RE CELEBRATING...

Now give yourselves permission to imagine beyond what feels practical today. Release the limits of your current circumstances. Forget what has or hasn't happened before.

Imagine that your commitment to one another created more than any one person could have accomplished alone.

What are you celebrating?
Who and what has grown?
What conversations changed everything?
What breakthroughs became possible because everyone brought their unique perspective, courage, and light?

Describe what you're celebrating as though you're already standing there together.

THIS IS YOUR SHARED NORTH STAR.

From this moment forward, you'll begin collecting moments of illumination together.

IDEAS

OPPORTUNITIES

BREAKTHROUGHS

CONNECTIONS

Each One is another piece of the future you've chosen to create.

Keep collecting light as it comes to you.

OUR CIO VISION

CLARITY. ILLUMINATION. OPPORTUNITY.

We are happy and grateful now that...

We feel...

The future you create starts here.

CREATE A SHARED VISION

Together

You don't need a perfect plan. You need a shared destination.

Download a Vision Map for every member of your group.

This is not another worksheet. It is the place where your shared future begins taking shape.

As your group moves through conversations, books, meetings, podcasts, work, and everyday life, you'll begin collecting moments that illuminate the future you've declared together.

BEFORE YOU BEGIN

Transfer these two things from your Community Vision onto every Vision Map.

01

YOUR SHARED FEELING

Write the feeling your group wants to experience as though you've already arrived. Every person begins with the same feeling.

Because how you feel influences what you notice.

02

YOUR SHARED DECLARED REALITY

Write your shared declaration in the center circle.

This becomes the future you'll begin training yourselves to recognize.

03

BEGIN COLLECTING LIGHT

Now stop trying to figure everything out.

Instead...

Begin noticing. Capture anything that:

- Supports your vision
- Expands your vision
- Challenges your thinking
- Strengthens your faith
- Reminds you of your purpose
- Points toward your declared future

Don't organize it.
Don't overanalyze it.

Just collect it.

THE VISION MAP IS NOT A NOTEBOOK.

A notebook captures everything.

A Vision Map captures only what illuminates the future you've chosen to create. It becomes a filter for your attention.

Eventually, your attention begins filtering your life.

NO TWO VISION MAPS WILL EVER LOOK ALIKE. THAT'S EXACTLY THE POINT.

Different people will notice different pieces of the same future.

I feel

DECLARED REALITY ✨ I am happy and grateful now that...

LET THE LIGHT GUIDE YOU

Even when you're apart

Once your shared vision becomes clear, something remarkable begins happening.
 You start noticing things you would have walked past before.
Not because the world suddenly changed. Because you did.

Carry your Vision Map with you.
 Or keep a photo of it on your phone.
 Whenever something resonates...

Capture it.

ANYTHING THAT SHINES LIGHT ON YOUR SHARED FUTURE BELONGS ON THE PAGE.

Most people believe they need more opportunities. Usually, they need clear vision

The moment you become deeply clear about what matters, your mind begins searching for it.

Ideas connect. Resources appear.

Conversations land differently.

Relationships deepen.

Life begins presenting you with possibilities that seem to appear out of nowhere.

Over time...
 your group will begin noticing...

The same themes
 The same people
 The same opportunities
 The same needs
 The same conversations
 The same confirmations
 The same breakthroughs

Not because you're creating them.

Because your shared vision is teaching your shared attention where to look.

YOUR ATTENTION IS SHAPING YOUR REALITY.

What you consistently notice is quietly becoming the life you experience.

THIS IS WHERE THE MAGIC HAPPENS

Your next gathering no longer begins with...

"So... what should we talk about today?"

It begins with...

"Here's what I noticed."

Those individual moments become collective wisdom.

Collective wisdom
 becomes clearer direction.

Clearer
 becomes aligned action.

And aligned action becomes the future you declared together.

What you consistently notice

Becomes the life you experience

DISCUSSION

Prompts

Start every gathering by returning to your shared vision.

Ask together:

- ★ Where did you notice our vision showing up this week?
- ★ What inspired you?
- ★ What conversation illuminated something new?
- ★ What surprised you?
- ★ What opportunity appeared?
- ★ What deserves more attention?
- What challenged our vision?
- What belongs on our Vision Map today?

Finish every gathering by asking:

Based on today's conversation, what do we see more clearly now than we did when we walked in?

YOUR VISION. YOUR GUIDE.

Your Vision Map is more than a plan on the wall...
it's the guide for every conversation.

BRING

your Vision Map to every gathering.
Let it ground you.

USE

these prompts to spark honest, meaningful dialogue.

CAPTURE

the moments that spark idea and move you forward.

WATCH

the insights brighten and the extraordinary appear

Stay open to revelation.

When a person or group believes something can be done, the mind will automatically begin creating ideas that will pave the path to accomplishment - Bob Proctor

As the conversations continue

The future expands

MY COMMITMENT

CLARITY. ILLUMINATION. OPPORTUNITY.

Imagine you're already living the future you've declared. Looking back, what choices, habits, conversations, and commitments made the greatest difference?
